

The purpose of the Pacific Music Foundation is to encourage music appreciation and performance by providing:

- ✓ musical education
- ✓ training
- ✓ performance experiences
- ✓ musical fellowship

This is all done through individual instruction, small workshops and foundation retreats. During these experiences of measured musical techniques, our members will benefit from personal growth and performance success.

Pacific Music Foundation

OUR MISSION

The mission and message of the Pacific Music Foundation is expressed through the music of Ho'omalie. The members of Ho'omalie are founding members of The Pacific Music Foundation. The music of Ho'omalie is carefully selected to facilitate a "sense of calm." This kind of commitment is best demonstrated through the "nahenahe" style of music, bringing greater meaning and a defining clarity to the mission and purpose of the Pacific Music Foundation.

HO'OMALIE

Ho'omalie, meaning to calm or soothe, is a vocal quartet that features the 'Ukulele and an old traditional style of Hawaiian music known as "nahenahe." This style of music, popular during the nostalgic yesteryears of Hawaii, is musically arranged to soothe, calm and relax the listener. You will find the music to be refreshing and exciting. It will take you back to your own special places where Hawaiian music filled your soul. We often share wonderful stories that tell of these memorable places where our families and friends would often meet and enjoy music. In our preparation of this music and for our own personal inspiration, we reflect upon these family gathering places during simpler times when life seemed more peaceful and relaxing. Ho'omalie is fulfilling the mission of the Pacific Music Foundation through performances at various care homes, hospitals and kupuna events throughout Hawaii.
